

Utility Stations to Support Single Use Operations

The utility stations can be constructed for ceiling or wall mounting or free standing.

Utility panels can be exclusively for utilities like water, steam, gasses or can be for making electrical power easily accessible to operations as well as serving as a communication panel.

Another option is to combine panels into one multifunctional station with separation as appropriate. In the case featuring a WFI bag on load cell, electrical power and communication panel and a pass through with window to the adjacent utility space.

ESC is prepared to design and build whatever may be best for your operations.
